公司简介

Our Supply Chain

We have vast collection of natural stone from China and around the worlds. Gathered from various quarries, our natural stone is processed in Xiamen, China. There, we have exclusive and strategic alliance with local processors and raw stone suppliers with their unique competitiveness.

Production optimization - Once ordered, we allocate each project to a processing factory based on their unique strength and a type of project. This methods facilitate factories to do what they do best in processing. In turn, We can procide firm quality stone in cost-effective way.

The just-in-time inventory - Our products are indeed made to order, allowing customization of natural stone and thus taking full advantage of your creativity and design. Keeping inventory level all time low, we are eliminating unnecessary cost and waste. This is how we provide you the maximum affordability.

We keep investing in products and supply chain to better meet requirement of each customer and projects, so that we and you can have success together.

Quality

Quality is our top priority. Quality means stone has no-defect but beautiful surface that satisfy your project needs. We also care what your own customer would care and demand in stone application.
To grantee the quality, we conduct several inspections during and before selection of raw stone, processing, and shipments. We always select raw natural stone with that policy in mind.

Versatility

Application of natural stone is limitless; it can be applied for interior flooring, walling, kitchen worktops, bathrooms, furniture, and even exterior space. How and where to apply is entirely depend on your idea, design, and functional requirement for project. To meet any types of demand and requirement, all of our product is a made to order. We make natural stone any shape, size, and surface finishes based on your project requirement and design. There is nothing we together can't make.

Service

We provide samples, catalogue, and perspective drawing at your request. It is our job to encourage and support you to make the most satisfying decision when it comes to selecting a natural stone best suited with your projects. Open communication is also important value for us. From consultant to quotation, we like to talk and understand you and your projects better. You will be fully satisfied with our products and service at the end; this is our ultimate goal. We are also able to assist you for stone installation in interior & exterior project, with our know-how in the field.
